

Terms of Use

Consent for the use of the images and/or logos displayed on this website will only be granted under the following conditions:

- We must always be informed in advance of any use of our logo and/or name and such use must be approved by us.
- Any use of our logo and/or name must not compromise our business. In particular, it is imperative not to create the impression that a business relationship exceeding its actual scope exists.
- The use of images should include the following qualifiers: "Used with friendly permission from the Schunk Group. Unauthorized use is prohibited". The qualifier "Used with friendly permission from the Schunk Group" may be replaced by "Source: Schunk Group".
- The copying of images for sale or commercial use is only permitted with the written consent of the Schunk Group.
- Use of brands of the Schunk Group, Schunk subsidiaries or affiliated companies is prohibited except in cases where such brands are coincidentally displayed in photos/images provided by the Schunk Group.
- All our references must be immediately removed or withdrawn at our request.
- The Schunk Group reserves the right to withdraw at any time their consent for copyright-protected material to be reproduced. This shall apply if the right to reproduce any such material is, in the Schunk Group's opinion, exercised in a way that opposes the company's interests or if the above instructions for protecting the copyright are not consequently observed.
- The Schunk Group shall not accept any liability in connection with this consent.

